ABSTRACT

Technological developments, as a result of globalization, indirectly affect human lifestyles, one of which is the Indonesian people. In a situation of change towards the Industrial Revolution 4.0, Pancasila has a role as a guide for the Indonesian people to be what by the noble values of the nation. However, the role of the millennial generation in maintaining these noble values is important considering that they are the spearhead of the country's development. From this statement, this study aims to identify and formulate steps to maintain the noble values of Pancasila among the millennial generation so that it does not eliminate national identity and understand the urgency of implementing the Pancasila lifestyle in the era of globalization. By using the literature review method, it can be seen that "grounding" and strengthening the essence of Pancasila values can be a solution so that the existence of Pancasila continues to shine. The Pancasila lifestyle deserves to be implemented because it regulates all behaviors of speech, thought, behavior, action, and good manners so that it must be expressed in the life of the nation and state as well as our everyday life.

Keywords: Pancasila, Millennial Generation, Globalization

INTRODUCTION

Pancasila, as the basis of the state, plays a role in regulating the behavior of the Indonesian people. In addition to being the basis and guideline for Indonesian society, Pancasila is also a value system that contains the noble values of the nation that originate from the cultural integration of the Indonesian people (12). and become the nation's main instrument because it can adapt to technological advances due to globalization. On the other hand, Pancasila is a value system that, among others, has one objective that is related to one another and is objective, subjective, and universal.

In a situation of change towards the 4.0 Industrial Revolution, Pancasila has a role as a guide for Indonesian society to conform to the noble values of the nation. As we know, globalization has become an era of change in which all aspects of life are progressing. The current globalization has begun to take root so that its influence cannot be simply eliminated (10). These influences can become a problem if not what by the personality and noble values of the nation, especially regarding lifestyle. This is where Pancasila plays as a filter to fortify itself from the negative effects of globalization.

Technological developments as a result of globalization indirectly affect human lifestyles, one of which is the Indonesian people. This makes the majority of Indonesian people become more consumptive and tend to be oriented towards western culture. They think that in the present era the fulfillment of tertiary needs is commonplace where it aims to improve the existence and quality of oneself in the groups they participate in (1). Of course, this is not in line with the noble values of Pancasila because it reflects the behavior of hedonism.

With a change-oriented situation to revolution 4.0, social order requires Pancasila as a way of life (10). Amid the negative impact of globalization, the only reliable guideline is Pancasila because Pancasila can be adapted to new situations as a result of globalization. From this statement, two questions arise: how important is the implementation of the Pancasila lifestyle among the millennial generation? What are the roles or steps that the millennial generation can take to realize and perpetuate the noble values of Pancasila? Both of these questions will be examined in this study through literature analysis. This article aims to identify and formulate steps to maintain the noble values of Pancasila among the millennial generation so as not to eliminate the nation's identity. This research is important considering that there are currently many negative impacts that we receive due to a lack of understanding of the essence of Pancasila itself. The importance of behaving with a Pancasila-style lifestyle must be immediately jointly promoted both from the community and the government so that all levels of the country can work together to formulate what needs to be prepared and the steps to realize and perpetuate the noble values of Pancasila, especially for the current millennial generation.

METHODS

This study uses a qualitative approach based on the theoretical framework, expert ideas, and the researcher's understanding with the literature review method (16). This literature review is a method that uses several references that are relevant to the research topic raised. The data collection technique used in this study uses documentation techniques (16) using secondary data in the form of a summary of 10 articles obtained from journals downloaded from Google Scholar in the 2019 to 2021 publication period with the help of the ATLAS.ti application to make it easier to correlate the issues raised with relevant theory or research. The data analysis technique used in this study is data reduction by focusing the search based on the topics discussed based on the 10 journal articles that have been mentioned (16). The keywords used in this study include "Pancasila", "millennial generation", and "globalization" using Boolean Operators (AND, OR, NOT).

In writing this article, the usage of inclusion criteria and exclusion criteria is acquired. In using the inclusion criteria, articles that are used as libraries are articles published during the period 2019 to 2021, researching Pancasila, the millennial generation, and globalization, and having full text access. On the other hand, in using the exclusion criteria for articles that are used as literature, articles published under 2019, do not discuss Pancasila, the millennial generation, and globalization, and do not have full-text access.

RESULTS

From the results of the literature study or literature review obtained, the authors found several studies that discuss the application of the Pancasila lifestyle which is focused on three keywords, namely Pancasila, the millennial generation, and globalization.

Pancasila values

The values of Pancasila are the embodiment of the noble character of the nation that has been inherited (5). The five precepts contained in Pancasila must be realized to all levels of society, especially the millennial generation. The values contained in the five precepts of Pancasila contain the principles of divinity, humanity, unity, democracy, and social justice. These values are a unified system that contains the basis for citizens to behave in the nation and state (5).

Implementation of Pancasila values

As the foundation of the state, Pancasila is the guideline in regulating all patterns of behavior and lifestyle of the people, especially for the millennial generation (9). The application of Pancasila is intended so that the noble values contained in Pancasila are not eroded by the influence of globalization. This is a marker or characteristic that can increase the sense of nationalism in the millennial generation.

The application of Pancasila values also aims to make Pancasila exist in the midst of the era of globalization. Pancasila has a role in maintaining the character and noble values of the nation, especially into the lifestyle of the millennial generation. The hope is that by applying the values of Pancasila, the lifestyle of the people, especially the millennial generation, does not conflict with Pancasila.

The Urgency of Implementing Pancasila Values in Millennial Generation

The millennial generation has a role in maintaining the existence of Pancasila values because it acts as the nation's next generation (14). The application of Pancasila in the era of globalization is important because it can maintain the existence of Pancasila (14). In addition, the values of Pancasila play a role in shaping identity so that it can be manifested in people's lifestyles. Pancasila is the foundation and foundation so that people hold fast to noble values so that the character possessed by the community is in accordance with Pancasila (10).

This is reinforced by research conducted by Azna (2021) which states that "earthing" or the introduction of Pancasila values to the millennial generation will form a future character of the nation that will continue to be imprinted in their hearts (15). By strengthening the values of Pancasila, it is hoped that the millennial generation will become the pillar of the nation's successor so that the noble values contained in Pancasila can still be maintained.

In line with the statements of Azna (2021) and Risdiani, et al. (2021) states that the strengthening of Pancasila can be started from a small scope such as family and school (15). This can be a solution to answer the demands of improving the character of the millennial generation based on Pancasila. Of course, this is the task of the millennial generation to perpetuate and apply the values of Pancasila.

The Way That Can be Implemented by Millennial Generation

The way that can be implemented to adopt a Pancasila lifestyle starts from an understanding of the values of Pancasila itself. In addition, other steps that can be applied are strengthening by improving and building noble character in accordance with the values of Pancasila in the millennial generation (8). Another way that can be taken to implement the Pancasila lifestyle is by implementing the Cultural and National Character Education program launched by the Ministry of Education and Culture in 2010.

DISCUSSION

Based on the research results that have been described, in the current era of globalization it is very important to adopt the Pancasila lifestyle among the millennial generation. Not without reason, in fact the longer the character possessed by the current millennial generation tends to conflict with the values of Pancasila (15). This of course can cause moral degradation and eliminate national identity.

The position of Pancasila is important for implementing its noble values among the millennial generation. Apart from being the basis of the state, Pancasila also acts as a national identity and a guide for the Indonesian nation to behave and speak. However, the real situation was not the case. The current millennial generation tends to be more interested in western culture and an anarchist culture. This does not reflect the implementation of Pancasila values. If this continues, Indonesia will lose its identity. Therefore, it is important to adopt a lifestyle pattern with Pancasila as early as possible so that all our movements reflect the real application of Pancasila (2).

The way that can be applied to adopt a Pancasila lifestyle starts from an understanding of the values of Pancasila itself. By interpreting the essence of Pancasila, our character will indirectly be guided by Pancasila which is full of noble values (3). From here, all our actions will automatically follow what is instilled in Pancasila.

In addition, other steps that can be applied are strengthening by improving and building noble characters that are by the values of Pancasila in the millennial generation (8). After starting to understand what the essence of Pancasila values are in their lifestyle, the characters that exist in the millennial generation need to be formed or improved again by applying aspects of citizenship and Pancasila in the hope that their spirit of nationalism will be formed first. Armed with this character, lifestyle behaviors that are contrary to the values of Pancasila will not be implemented by the millennial generation because they already have a mindset that the only guideline that can be used as a reference in dealing with the impact of globalization is Pancasila.

Pancasila as the basis of the state has contributed to forming a strong foundation in which the intercepts in it are complementary and interrelated (Setiawan, 2020). This is of course necessary to minimize the negative impact of globalization, especially in application among the millennial generation, considering that they are the golden generation at the forefront of national independence. Pancasila can act as a filter so that the millennial generation does not fall into the negative impacts of globalization. By implementing the values of Pancasila, a spirit of nationalism will be formed to face the great influence of globalization.

Most of the ethics and character of the millennial generation have begun to decline (11). This is marked by several events that occurred in Indonesia, for example, the existence of brawls, the perpetuation of a culture of corruption in schools, racism with another group, and also hate-speech behavior on social media. Little things like this if allowed to continue will be a disaster with a comprehensive impact.

Another way that can be taken to implement the Pancasila lifestyle is by implementing the Cultural and National Character Education program launched by the Ministry of Education and Culture in 2010. However, we need to make reforms so that the programs launched are relevant to the current situation of globalization. This program is considered to have a big impact on "improving" the ethics and character of the millennial generation so that in the future they can participate in the process of building the country (5).

Currently, it is important to adopt a Pancasila lifestyle in everyday life. Not only that but we are also required to be role models for others to adopt the Pancasila lifestyle. The urgency of implementing a Pancasila lifestyle is very important because the situation in Indonesia in terms of character and lifestyle begins to contradict the values of Pancasila. Pancasila is the main indicator for building and improving the character of the millennial generation considering the precepts in Pancasila are a unified form that reflects the character and identity of the nation (10).

Judging from the current situation of globalization, the urgency of implementing the Pancasila lifestyle can be understood as something that must be realized in everyday life. The development of behavior by the values of Pancasila will later become a habit to create repetitive patterns that can be influenced by internal or even external factors (2). From this pattern of repetition, it will create a fixed structure of behavior that is by the values of Pancasila so that the existence of Pancasila amid globalization continues to shine because of the role of the millennial generation.

CONCLUSION

From the discussion that has been described, we can conclude that Pancasila has an important role as a reference or guide for the millennial generation in facing globalization. Although Pancasila has been formulated since Indonesia has not yet achieved its independence, the noble values contained in it can adapt to the times. Therefore, Pancasila is still relevant to be applied in the lifestyle of the millennial generation.

In addition, it can be concluded that Pancasila has an important role as a guide for the millennial generation in the life of the nation and state. This can be manifested in their lifestyle (10). In the literature it is stated that to apply the values of Pancasila it is necessary to "earth or socialize so that the essence of Pancasila is better understood by the current generation".

The steps that can be taken to start implementing the Pancasila lifestyle are to understand the essence of implementing Pancasila values in the lifestyle of the millennial generation. In addition, strengthening by improving and building noble character with the values of Pancasila in the millennial generation is also important to implement.

In addition to taking these steps, millennials must understand the urgency of implementing Pancasila in their lifestyle. This is because the values of Pancasila are unique and authentic so that they can characterize the nation's identity. If the millennial generation maintains these values, the existence of Pancasila in the midst of globalization will not be extinguished. Pancasila deserves to be applied because it regulates all behavior of speech, thought, behavior, action, and good character so that it must be expressed in the life of the nation and state as well as our daily lives.

Overall, the limitation in this study is that it focuses more on the character of the millennial generation. In the future, as a refinement of this research, research with a wider object and covering all levels of Indonesian society can be carried out.
