

Letter of Confirmation

I am writing to submit my essay titled "Unravelling the Intricacies of Telomere Replication: A Molecular Conundrum" for your consideration. This essay is an original and non-published work that I have written.

The essay explores about the molecular mechanisms of telomere replication in maintaining genomic stability and preventing cellular senescence. I have reviewed the latest literature and research on this topic and synthesized the main findings and implications in a clear and concise manner.

The essay is an independent work that I have completed with no involvement of any advisor or external assistance. I have followed the ethical standards and citation guidelines of academic writing and acknowledged all the sources that I have used in my essay.

I hope that you will find my essay interesting and informative. I appreciate your time and attention and look forward to receiving your feedback.

Sincerely,

Neelabh Datta
